6.3 All Reports should be completed on such form or in such manner as may be decided by the Ethics Commission from time to time. Reports should be signed and dated by the person lodging the report and shall include all available evidence.

6.4 Nothing in this Rule limits the Ethics Commission from considering information which may form an alleged breach of the Code of Ethics, based on information that has come to its attention other than by way of a Report under this clause.

7. Prima Facie Case

- 7.1 The Chairperson of the Ethics Commission shall first ensure that the Report or information received relates to an alleged breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics. If it does not, he/she may refer it to the appropriate authority and subject to clause 7.3 shall advise the person who reports the matter that no further action on the report will be taken.
- 7.2 If, upon review of a Report the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission considers the Report to be frivolous or malicious, he/she may decide to take no further action in which case the Chairperson subject to clause 7.3 shall so advise the person who reported the matter.
- 7.3 All Reports in respect of which the Chairperson has decided to take no further action must be reported to all the other members of the Ethics Commission, who may disagree with the Chairperson's decision in which case the Chairperson shall reconsider his/her decision having regard to the comments of the member or members of the Commission who disagreed with the initial decision.
- 7.4 if the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission considers it appropriate to do so, he/she may ask any person filing a Report to provide further information before a decision is taken under clause 7.5 as to whether a prima facie case is made out.
- 7.5 Following receipt of a Report or other information, subject to clauses 7.2 and 7.3, the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission will consider whether there is sufficient evidence to establish a prima facie case of breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics.
- 7.6 If the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission considers there is a prima facie case of breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics, he/she will cause an investigation to be commenced, unless, in the view of the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission in consultation with the other members of the Ethics Commission, there is a good reason not to cause an investigation to be commenced either immediately or at all.
- 7.7 In addition to information provided in a Report, the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission may consider information that has come to his/her attention by whatever means to establish whether there is a prima facie case of a breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics, and in such circumstances he/she will initiate an investigation for an alleged breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics in accordance with these clauses.
- 7.8 Grounds do not need to be given for the initiation of an investigation for an alleged breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics and the decision may not be contested. The Applicable Person will be notified of the commencement of such an investigation and of the possible breaches of the ANOC Code of Ethics to which the investigation relates, and will be afforded the right to make a written submission as part of the investigation.
- 7.9 The Chairperson of the Ethics Commission will have discretion, to be exercised as appropriate, to write to any Applicable Persons against whom a prima facie case has been found to exist, to ask whether or not they wish to admit any breaches suggested by the prima facie case. If the Applicable Person wishes to admit any breaches, the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission shall direct that the matter proceed directly to a decision of the Ethics Commission on the consequences and sanction(s) to be recommended to the Executive Council or General Assembly, as the case may be.
- 7.10 At any time, whether or not the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission considers there is a prima facie case, he/she may refer any information he/she receives from a Report or otherwise to the appropriate criminal or other authorities, if he/she considers it appropriate to do so or it is required by law.
- 7.11 A decision under this clause by the Chair of the Ethics Commission that there is a prima facie case of a breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics, is final and may not be appealed. This does not prevent the final decision of the Ethics Commission from being appealed in accordance with the Constitution and this Bye-Laws.

8. Investigations

- 8.1 Where a prima facie case of a breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics has been determined to exist pursuant to clause 7, the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission shall appoint an Independent Investigator to conduct an investigation.
- 8.2 Investigations for breaches of the ANOC Code of Ethics may be conducted in conjunction with, and/or information obtained in such investigations may be shared with, other relevant authorities. The Independent Investigator may conduct the investigation alone or engage other suitable independent investigators, with the prior approval of the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission. The Chairperson of the Ethics Commission shall approve a budget and timeframe for the investigation which the Independent Investigator must comply with.
- 8.3 Upon application by the Independent Investigator, the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission may, where he/she deems it appropriate, suspend an investigation pending the outcome of investigations being conducted by other relevant authorities, (for example, where another authority is investigating the same or similar facts or it has superior powers of coercion or the investigations are likely to be substantially duplicative).
- 8.4 All Applicable Persons must cooperate fully with investigations conducted by the Independent Investigator. In cases of refusal or failure to do so without compelling justification, this may constitute a separate breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics. In particular (but without limitation),
- 8.4.1 The Independent Investigator may make a written demand (“Demand”) to furnish to the Independent Investigator any information that may evidence or lead to the discovery or evidence of an ANOC Code of Ethics breach, including (without limitation): requiring any Applicable Person to:
- a. attend an interview; and/or,
 - b. provide a written statement setting out his/her knowledge of the relevant facts and circumstances; and/or,
 - c. provide relevant documentary records (such as betting account numbers and information, itemised telephone bills, bank statements, internet service records, computers, hard drives and other electronic information storage devices).
- 8.4.2 The relevant Applicable Person(s) must furnish such information within ten (10) days of the making of such Demand, or within such other deadline as may be specified by the Independent Investigator. The failure to do so shall be deemed to be in breach of the Code of Ethics.
- 8.4.3 Any information furnished to the Independent Investigator will be kept confidential except when it becomes necessary to disclose such information to further the investigation of and/or to bring proceedings relating to a breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics, or when such information is reported to administrative, professional or judicial authorities pursuant to an investigation or prosecution of non-sporting laws or regulations, or is otherwise required by law.
- 8.5 Each Applicable Person waives and forfeits any rights, defences and privileges provided by any law in any jurisdiction to withhold information requested in a Demand. If an Applicable Person refuses or fails to produce such information, then if:
- 8.5.1 proceedings are brought against that Applicable Person under clause 8.11, or
- 8.5.2 the Independent Investigator confirms that there is a good faith basis for the Demand, the eligibility of the Applicable Person to participate in any ANOC event, meeting or activity

(including the ANOC World Beach Games) may be withdrawn by decision of the Executive Council on recommendation from the Chairperson and they may be denied credentials and access to such event, meeting or activity pending compliance with the Demand.

- 8.6 If an Applicable Person subverts or attempts to subvert the investigation process (e.g., by providing false, misleading or incomplete information and/or by destroying potential evidence), this may constitute a separate breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics.
- 8.7 If an Applicable Person refuses or fails cooperate fully with an investigation, the Ethics Commission may take such refusal or failure into account and infer that the answers would be adverse to that person.
- 8.8 The Chairperson of the Ethics Commission, following application by the Independent Investigator may at any time require an NOC or Continental Association:
 - 8.8.1 to assist in an investigation into a potential breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics by one or more persons under its jurisdiction (where appropriate, acting in conjunction with any other relevant national authority or body), and
 - 8.8.2 to provide a written report on such assistance within a reasonable time period as stipulated by the Independent Investigator.
- 8.9 If an NOC or Continental Association refuses or fails to comply with clause 8.8 without compelling justification, this may constitute a breach of the Bye-Law for which the Executive Council or the General Assembly may exercise their respective suspensive and other powers to sanction the NOC or Continental Association in accordance with the Constitution.
- 8.10 Where during the course of an investigation the Independent Investigator identifies any additional Applicable Persons against whom it considers there exists a prima facie case of a related but separate breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics, the investigation may be expanded to deal with their involvement in the events in question.
- 8.11 Where, as a result of an investigation in relation to a breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics, the Independent Investigator forms the view that an Applicable Person has a case to answer for commission of a breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics, he will send a Notice of Charge in accordance with the Procedural Rules
- 8.12 Once a Notice of Charge has been issued, the Proceedings are deemed to have commenced. The procedure for Proceedings is set out the Procedural Rules.

9. Provisional Suspension

- 9.1 At any time, where a prima facie case of a breach of the ANOC Code of Ethics has been determined to exist pursuant to clause 7 of this Bye-Law, a Panel of the Ethics Commission, (convened in accordance with the Procedural Rules) may impose a Provisional Suspension on the Applicable Person pending the determination of the investigation and potential charge.
- 9.2 The Panel may impose a Provisional Suspension if it considers that the integrity of ANOC or the Olympic Movement could otherwise be seriously undermined.
3. Before imposing a provisional suspension, the Panel shall:
 - a. notify the Applicable Person in writing of the proposal to impose a provisional suspension including the evidence on which it is proposed; and,

- b. give the Applicable Person an opportunity to be heard on the proposal, which shall not be less than 24 hours, unless in exceptional or urgent circumstances.
- 9.4 Any Provisional Suspension imposed under this clause 9 will take effect from the date the Panel's decision is communicated to the Applicable Person. At the same time as such communication, a copy of the decision to impose a Provisional Suspension on the Applicable Person shall be:
 - 9.4.1 communicated to the Applicable Person's National Olympic Committee, and Continental Association; and,
 - 9.4.2 publicly disclosed, unless the Panel of the Ethics Commission decides otherwise.
- 9.5 A decision to impose a Provisional Suspension may be appealed to CAS in accordance with the Procedural Rules and any such appeal shall only be allowed if the Applicable Person establishes:
 - 9.5.1 that the charge(s) has/have no reasonable prospect of being upheld, e.g. because of a patent flaw in the case; or
 - 9.5.2 some other facts exist that make it clearly unfair, in all of the circumstances, to impose a Provisional Suspension prior to a full hearing on the merits of the charge(s). This ground of appeal is to be construed narrowly, and applied only in exceptional circumstances.

10. Recognition of Decisions

- 10.1 Provisional Suspensions, hearing results or other final decisions under the ANOC Code of Ethics will be applicable worldwide and will be recognised and respected by ANOC, NOCs and Continental Associations automatically upon receipt of notice of the same, without the need for any further formality.

11. Statute of Limitations

- 11.1 The statute of limitations for the commencement of Proceedings is ten years, unless stated otherwise under Swiss law.

12. Miscellaneous

- 12.1 Where a matter arises that is not otherwise provided for in this Bye-Law or in the Procedural Rules Bye-Law, the Chairperson of the Ethics Commission (or the deputy Chairperson) will resolve it as he/she sees fit.
- 12.2 Any deviation from any provision of the ANOC Code of Ethics or these clauses and/or any irregularity, omission, technicality or other defect in the procedures will not invalidate any finding, procedure or decision unless it is shown to render the proceedings unreliable or to have caused a miscarriage of justice.
