

ANOC Event Terms & Conditions

Scope of Application

These ANOC Event Terms & Conditions (“T&C”) apply whenever you participate in an event organised by ANOC (“Event”). By registering for participation in an Event, you (“Participant”) conclude a contract with ANOC about your participation in the Event and you agree to be bound by these T&C. Please read these T&C carefully and do not participate in an Event should you disagree with these T&C.

Travel to an Event and Accommodation

There is no entitlement that ANOC would cover travel or accommodation, unless otherwise stipulated in travel guidelines (or similar guidelines) published and communicated by ANOC prior to an Event. If such travel guidelines exist for an Event, please make sure to carefully study such guidelines. ANOC reserves the right to make changes to such guidelines at any moment. In case of discrepancy between these T&C and applicable travel guidelines, the travel guidelines shall prevail.

Please note also that if ANOC makes a booking for you that is not covered by ANOC for an Event (for example a booking for a guest), you may be asked to directly pay such a booking or ANOC may create an invoice for such a booking and send it to you. If you do not make the required direct payment, and/or if such an invoice is not paid within the applicable deadline, the booking may be cancelled and/or all respective fees (whether for the booking and/or for the cancellation) may be charged to you. Further details may again be included in applicable travel guidelines and/or in separate practical information that may be shared with you prior to an Event.

Should you have any questions related to travel or accommodation, you can always contact events@anocolympic.org.

Participation and Accreditation

Your admission to an Event remains subject to the confirmation by ANOC and the issuance of a valid accreditation. ANOC reserves the right, prior or during an Event, to decline a Participant and/or to withdraw an accreditation, in particular in case of violation of these T&C or of any rules, regulations or guidelines of ANOC.

Capture and use of images

As a Participant in an Event, you and your guests agree to be filmed, televised, photographed, identified and/or otherwise recorded during the Event, and that your captured or recorded image, together with your names, likenesses, voices, performances and biographical information, may be used, including copied and communicated to the public, in any content, format and through any media or technology whether now existing or created in the future, without payment, for the maximum duration permitted by applicable law and when applicable at least until they are in the public domain, by ANOC and its affiliates or third parties such as broadcasters social media networks, the International Olympic Committee, National Olympic Committees (NOCs), Continental Associations of NOCs, International Sport Federations, Organizing Committees for the ANOC World Beach Games, and third parties authorized by ANOC during and after the Event in relation to the celebration and direct or indirect promotion of the ANOC World Beach Games or ANOC in a commercial or non-commercial manner.

Copyright assignment / licence

Still and/or moving images and/or sounds may be recorded within the perimeter of Event venues. As a Participant, you agree that ANOC will be the sole owner of any intellectual property rights (including copyright) in such content without further authorization form, or payment, or compensation to you, or anyone acting on your behalf, and you hereby assign any rights you may have in respect of such content to ANOC, including without limitation the right to make derivative works, and to the extent permitted by applicable laws, waiving all moral rights in the same.

Virtual Events

In case an Event is held virtually, ANOC may use the required technological tools (e.g. ZOOM, TEAMS, Webex or similar). By attending the virtual event, you agree to the use of the respective tool (and to the respective terms applicable for the specific tool). You also agree that ANOC may record the Event and that it may use artificial intelligence tools to make summaries of the Event.

Insurance

ANOC may decide to conclude an insurance package to cover Participants for accident and/or sickness for the duration of an Event. However, irrespective of this, please note that you remain responsible to ensure your full own insurance coverage during your participation in an Event, and for the duration of travel to and from the Event. ANOC shall not be legally responsible to conclude any travel, sickness, accident or similar insurance for the benefit of a Participant. To the extent permissible by law, any liability of ANOC for financial damage suffered by a Participant (or a guest of a participant) in connection with an Event is excluded (this exclusion also applies to auxiliaries and contractual partners of ANOC).

Cancellation

ANOC reserves the right to cancel an Event at any moment prior or during an Event. To the extent permissible by law, any liability of ANOC for financial damage suffered by a Participant in connection with the cancellation of an Event is excluded (this exclusion also applies to auxiliaries and contractual partners of ANOC).

ANOC Rules and Regulations / Arbitration / Applicable Law

By registering for participation in an Event, you agree to be bound by all applicable rules and regulations of ANOC. Any dispute arising out of, or in connection with, the participation in an Event is subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of, and will be submitted exclusively to, the Court of Arbitration for Sport in Lausanne, Switzerland, and will be resolved definitively in accordance with the code of sports-related arbitration. Any such dispute shall be governed by Swiss law.

Contact

Should you have any questions in relation to these T&C, you can always contact events@anocolympic.org.

Modifications

ANOC reserves the right to change or amend these T&C at all times.

ANOC Event Privacy Policy

This section addresses aspects related to data protection and aims to inform Participants about the processing of their personal data in connection with their participation in an Event. The information below specifically details the categories of personal data ANOC process, the purpose of their processing, the transmission of these data to third parties, as well as how Participants can exercise their rights regarding the protection of personal data.

The processing of Participants' data in this context is therefore governed by these terms and conditions as well as any other applicable Event terms, conditions, regulations or guidelines.

Data controller and Data Protection Officer

The data controller is:

ANOC (Association of National Olympic Committees)
Chemin des Charmettes 4
1003 Lausanne
Switzerland

The data controller's data protection officer (DPO) is:

Kleiner Sport GmbH
Jan Kleiner
Balgristweg 27
8053 Zürich

Collection of personal data

Personal data may be collected directly by ANOC (or contractual partners of ANOC), or by other third parties instructed by ANOC to do so, for example National Olympic Committees or local Organising Committees.

Purposes of processing

ANOC requires some of Participants' personal information for the purposes of organizing and managing the Event, ensuring in-person or virtual attendance, as well as managing and improving ANOC contact and relationship database (hereafter "ANOC Contact Database") as well as the subscription platform. This includes in particular:

In-person attendance:

- i. allowing Participant's entry and stay in the territory where the Event is taking place;
- ii. granting and managing Participant's accreditation to the Event and all related rights and entitlements, including all financial aspects related to travel and accommodation, including possible reimbursements;
- iii. conducting the registration process and related rights and entitlements to the Participant;

-
- iv. ensuring the security of the Event and safety of Participants, including performing any operation necessary for this purpose such as security background checks;
 - v. carrying out general administration activities for the Event and providing certain services (such as accommodation, transport, etc.) to accredited persons and participants, in particular arranging travel bookings;
 - vi. contacting you by email, phone or text message to provide you relevant information about the Event program, as well as information related to your security, transport or accommodation;
 - vii. ensuring compliance with ANOC legal obligations and/or the organizer of the Event or other laws and rules applicable to accredited persons or participants, including disclosing personal information pursuant to any order issued by competent authorities;
 - viii. any other purpose the Participant provide his express consent to the ANOC.

Virtual attendance

- i. proceeding with the necessary verification, such as identity checks and allowing you to attend the Event online, including sending you appropriate invitation and authentication information;
- ii. manage and monitor online participations to the Event, as well as ensuring the smooth running and online security of the Event;
- iii. contacting a Participant by email, phone or text message to provide all relevant documents and information related to Event's online participation attendance;
- iv. ensuring compliance with ANOC legal obligations and/or the organizer of the Event, including disclosing personal information pursuant to any order issued by competent authorities;
- v. any other purpose you provide your express consent to the ANOC.

Effective contact and relationship management

This processing is related to the management of ANOC Contact Database, which ANOC uses to maintain and keep updated information about its contacts and manage its relationships with them.

- i. ensuring that information related to partners, members, directors and other key stakeholders is current and accurate;
- ii. managing relationship with partners, members, directors and other key stakeholders;
- iii. sending invitations, Newsletters and other relevant communications regarding ANOC's Events, Projects or Programs involving ANOC members.

Management of the registration platform

By using the registration platform, specific technical information related to the Participant's computer devices is collected and processed automatically for the purposes outlined below:

- i. Ensuring proper functioning and security of the registration platform;
- ii. Enhancing services offered through the registration platform.

Capture and use of images

Please see the section “Capture and use of images” further above.

Personal information collected

We collect personal data that is necessary in relation to the purposes mentioned above, such as:

- Identity related information: title, first name, last name, gender, photo, etc.
- Contact information: email address, phone number, address, etc.
- Job related information: organization/company, job title, position/function, etc.
- Identity document and related information: nationality, number, date and place of issuance, expiry date, including a copy/scan of the identity document, etc.
- Information requested by the authorities for visa application (where applicable)
- Information necessary for stay arrangement and accommodation, including financial information: special diet, language, flight number, date and time of departure, check-in and check-out details, hotels, room type, bank details, etc.
- Information collected for the management of the ANOC Contact Database, such as identity-related information, contact information, identity document’s information, Event’s attendance history, current and past functions or positions, assistant email address, etc.
- Technical information collected by the registration platform to ensure its proper functioning and security such as IP address, browser and device information, dates and times of visits, etc.
- Capture of images: see related above-section “Capture and use of images”

Processed personal data may vary depending on specific circumstances of an Event.

These data are necessary for ANOC to fulfill the missions and purposes mentioned above. If a Participant refuses to provide certain data, participation in the Event or the execution of a particular request cannot be guaranteed. This does not apply to data for which a specific consent is requested. In this case, the Participant has the right to withdraw their consent at any time, which will result in the cessation of processing the relevant data unless it can be retained for another legitimate purpose based on a legal basis other than your consent.

Legal basis and justification for the processing of personal data

Most personal data processing are necessary for the execution of pre-contractual and contractual obligations arising from the Participant’s desire to attend the Event under the terms and conditions set forth herein (art. 6 par. 1b GDPR, art. 31 par. 1 FADP).

Personal data may also be processed based on ANOC’s legitimate interests, particularly regarding the improvement of its services related to the organization of Events. This also includes, for the relevant Participant, the management and constant updating of ANOC’s Contact Database for sending invitations and organizing future Events (art. 6 par. 1f GDPR, art. 31 par. 1 FADP).

Personal data is also used so that ANOC can comply with its legal obligations and official requests from authorities (art. 6 par. 1c GDPR, art. 31 par. 1 FADP).

More rarely, consent is required to legitimize data processing activities that are not covered by a contractual relationship, a legitimate interest, or a legal obligation (art. 6 par. 1a GDPR, art. 31 par. 1 FADP).

Sharing information with third parties

Participant's personal data is intended for the authorized personnel of ANOC, its subcontractors, partners, providers, or other intermediaries as well as competent authorities when it is necessary for the purposes mentioned above. This includes in particular:

- i. Service providers acting on ANOC's behalf and instructions and which notably help ANOC operate, secure and maintain the registration system or operate the Event;
- ii. Local organizers such as organizing committees, National Olympic Committees or other entities in charge of delivering locally the Event the Participant wishes to attend;
- iii. Competent authorities in the country where the Event is taking place require certain information to allow the Participant access and stay in the country and ensure the security of the Event. This also includes other legal purposes pursuant to any order issued by any competent authorities;
- iv. Travel agencies which process travel and accommodation requests and reservations of travel and accommodation services;
- v. Hotels and other accommodation services providers;
- vi. International Medical & Security Sports Assistance (IMSSA), which provides the Participant information about the security situation in the region of the concerned Event and helps ANOC ensuring the security of travellers.

The above-mentioned third parties are legally obliged to comply with legal provisions relating to data protection. Furthermore, when possible, ANOC takes the necessary measures, including contractual ones, to require these third parties to comply with data protection requirements and ANOC's specific instructions.

International transfer

ANOC strives as much as possible to ensure the processing of Participants' personal data in Switzerland or, at least, countries inside the European Union and the European Economic Area and those offering an adequate level of protection.

However, some of the recipients mentioned above may be based in the country where the Event is taking place or in other countries. Some countries do not provide in their laws for a level of protection of Participant's privacy equivalent to the one applied within Switzerland and the European Union.

Some purposes imply that ANOC shares your personal information with local organizers or local authorities based in countries outside the Switzerland or European Union. However, such transfers are necessary for and justified by the conclusion or performance of a contract concluded in your interest or to which you are a party. In all cases, ANOC takes appropriate measures to reduce the risks associated with international transfer as well as, when necessary, implementing the appropriate safeguards required by law.

Data retention

ANOC processes and retains personal data as long as necessary to fulfil ANOC legal obligations and to achieve the purposes of the processing mentioned. As soon as personal data are no longer necessary for achieving these objectives, they are deleted, where possible, or anonymized. The criteria influencing the retention period include the applicable legal framework, the need for ANOC to be able to have access to this information, the achievement of the initial or extended purposes, the preservation of legitimate interests, as well as imperatives arising from internal organizational or technical processes.

Data protection rights

Participants have the following rights regarding their personal data:

- Request information about the personal data that ANOC process, as well as a copy of these data.
- Request ANOC to correct or complete inaccurate or incomplete data.
- Request the deletion of the data unless a legal basis or a legitimate interest requires or permits ANOC to keep these data.
- Request ANOC to limit the processing of the data, if allowed by law.
- When applicable, revoke at any time the consent that justifies the processing of personal data.
- Oppose at any time to the processing of personal data for promotional and marketing purposes.
- Oppose at any time to any other processing, unless, for example, a legal basis or a legitimate interest requires or permits the continuation of the processing.
- Request data in a portable format when the processing of data is carried out in an automated manner, based on consent or a contract.
- Object and express their point of view in case of automated individual decision-making and request a review of the decision by a human being.
- Lodge a complain with a supervisory authority (in particular, the Swiss authority “FDPIIC”) regarding the processing of personal data.

Participants can exercise their rights by contacting ANOC directly using the email address data.protection@anocolympic.org or the postal address mentioned above.

ANOC will inform the Participants of any possible conditions or restrictions that may apply to the exercise of their rights.

ANOC reserve the right to require additional data to identify the Participant by requesting a copy of a valid official identification document. To facilitate the processing of any request, the Participants must specify precisely which right(s) they want to exercise and their scope.

Electronic business card

Accreditations issued to Participants contain QR Codes that can serve as an electronic business card. For this, the Participant simply needs to agree to let another participant or person present at the event scan the QR Code on the accreditation. By allowing someone to scan this code, the Participant agrees to share with them some of the contact information provided at the time of his registration, as if handing them a business card. The recipient of this information will then have the opportunity to contact the Participant after the event and process the shared personal data for any purposes agreed upon between them. This data communication is conditional on the Participant’s consent at the time they allow another person to scan their accreditation. The Participant is completely free to refuse this operation.

The personal data shared in this context includes name, phone number, email, organization, etc.

Tools and means of communication and information exchange

Registration for an Event and the exchange of related information is done through the registration platform or other means of exchange and communication provided or indicated by ANOC. If the Participant registers or communicates with ANOC outside of these means (for example, email, online chat tools, web or mobile application, etc.), the Participant accepts the risks associated with their use and authorizes ANOC to use these communication channels.

Additionally, ANOC may offer the use of third-party communication tools to communicate with Participants before or during the Event to provide important information regarding travel and the conduct of the Event. The Participant is free to refuse the proposed means of communication while understanding that for organizational and efficiency reasons, ANOC may not be able to offer an alternative to the use of these means. When possible, these tools will be configured to comply with privacy and data protection requirements.

Guests

ANOC may allow the Participant to register a limited number of guests for an Event, for which some guest's personal information may be required. Before submitting any personal information on behalf of the Participant's guests, the Participant is responsible for informing his guests, obtaining their authorization to act on their behalf and ensuring that they understand the present Terms, especially the conditions applicable to the collection, transfer and processing of their personal information.

Please note, that the Participant can only register guests who are under 18 years old or a minor in their country of residence if the Participant is such persons' parent or legal guardian. By registering a guest who is under 18 years old or a minor in their country of residence, the Participant represents and warrants to ANOC that the Participant is their parent or legal guardian.

For any additional information or should you require any assistance, please contact the ANOC Office at:

Address:

Chemin des Charmettes 4
1003 Lausanne
Switzerland

Email: events@anocolympic.org or data.protection@anocolympic.org

Tel.: +41 21 321 52 60

